My dear Professor Baker:

I was very glad to get your letter yesterday, and to learn that you are somewhat better and are picking up now that you have returned to Muskoka. I can quite realise that the variety of food to which you were subjected of necessity, while in Spain, must have acted injuriously on your system. However, there is nothing like one's home air to revive one. I hope that you will stay in Muskoka as long as you can, and Professor DeLury tells me that you need not worry over extra work this Winter. I am glad that we got a lecturer appointed for you last June. Meantime, cheer up and get the best possible out of this month.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President
